The pilot and passengers in their Cessna 172 sustained only minor injuries when their craft crashed into trees on the shore of South Lake. The pilot made a forced landing on the frozen surface of the lake, but "ran out of runway" before he could bring the plane to a halt. See story below.

Plane passengers escape injury

The pilot and passenger of a light aircraft miraculously escaped serious injury Monday evening when the Cessna 172 made a forced landing on the frozen surface of South Lake and skidded into the bush on the shore. The aircraft flipped over after striking the brush onshore.

The accident happened at about 7 p.m. Monday evening. Agbaje-Salami Razaq, 27, of Emsdale was the pilot of the craft. The passenger was Jack Kramer, 43, also of Emsdale. The pair suffered lacerations, cuts and bruises in the incident. Kramer also suffered a possible concussion. The two were taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital for treatment and later released.

According to the police, the craft experienced difficulty in a rainstorm. The plane was running out of gasoline when the pilot decided to set it down on the ice of South Lake. However, after landing the craft "ran out of runway" and crashed into the brush at the edge of the lake. The force of the impact ripped the nosewheel from the airplane and caused it to flip over coming to rest with the tail in the air. No estimate of the damage was available.

The accident was investigated by Constable Barry Connelly and Corporal

Adam. An investigation will also be carried out by the Ministry of Transport.

Man seriously injured as light aircraft crashes

A Minden man is in critical condition at Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto after the Ultralight aircraft he was flying plunged 75 feet to the ice of Lake Kashagawigamog.

Allin Cooper, 59, was test flying the glider-like craft which had been constructed the previous week at his workshop at Woodcutter Supply Store on Highway 121. The man was preparing to become an agent for a firm selling the Ultralight aircraft.

According to the police, the power assisted Ultralight glider experienced problems with air currents after lifting off the frozen surface of the lake. Cooper lost control of the craft and it plummeted to the ground. The Ultralight was a non-registered aircraft.

Cooper was severely injured when the craft crashed into the ice. He suffered severe lacerations to the skull, possible skull fracture, two broken arms, broken right wrist, both ankles and legs were broken and a possible compressed fracture of the spine.

The man was rushed to Minden Red Cross Hospital and transferred a short time later by air ambulance, to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto.

The incident was investigated by Constable Barry Connelly and Corporal Adam.

BIA backs new sidewalk

Minden should have some new sidewalks this summer. The new sidewalks, financed by the municipality, are at the top of a list of improvements proposed by the community's Business Improvement Area (BIA) organization.

The BIA held a general meeting Wednesday evening, at which time the members in attendance agreed that the construction of sidewalks as far as the Minden Fruit Market and Dr. Purc's office should be the main priority for the spring. The work is to be carried out by the municipality with funds accumulated during the past three years for downtown improvements. The council had sought the direction of the BIA in how the funds should be allocated.

Gord Crosby, an engineer with the municipality's consulting firm of Totten, Simms and Hubicki, addressed the BIA meeting Wednesday. He presented a cost assessment of the work proposed in the CAUSE study carried out by the BIA last May. According to Crosby, the cost of the sidewalk extensions, as well as

Kenney outlines objections to Chamber

A probing attack on the value and effectiveness of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce was launched Thursday morning at the meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council. The critical assessment of the county wide organization was made by councillor Gary Kenney, who presented a multi-page report he said was prepared after several months of investigation.

The attack left the representative of the Chamber of Commerce, president Rhonda Elstone, secretary manager Bob Stinson and board member Bill Kulas virtually speechless and obviously very upset. Their opportunity for rebuttal at the meeting was cut short by Reeve Lyle McKnight, who asked the Chamber representative to return at a later meeting it respond to the points Kenney had made.

In beginning his report, Kenney told the meeting that he felt the Chamber of Commerce had not fairly promoted the interests of the county as a whole. "In fact in some cases, the Chamber has acted contrary to the interests of some townships, particularly Anson, Hindon and Minden," Kenney stated.

He said he did not mean for his report to imply that any member of the Chamber had acted in bad faith intentionally, or that tourism should not be the priority of the Chamber. However, he suggested the Chamber was a "county agency" as he termed it, and there is no direction from County Council, one of the main sources of funding for the Chamber, and that the Chamber is not accountable for its actions.

Kenney said he based his conclusions on a number of sources including the Chamber's lure book, the weekly newspaper column 'From The Chamber' which appears in The Times, a community profile study carried out by the Economic Development Commission in 1979, information from township tax rolls, a personal telephone survey and conversations with the regional commissioner for the Ontario Ministry of Revenue W.H. Parnell.

Outlines premises

As a basis for his arguments which were to follow, Kenney attempted to analyse various details about the tourist industry in the county. He made the following points, illustrated with graphs and charts:

- of 121 tourist destination facilities in the county, including resorts, camp grounds, cabin rentals etc., 41.5% are located in the

Dysart et al, 19.8% in Stanhope; 18% in Anson, Hindon and Minden, 6.3% in Lutterworth and 14.4% in other municipalities.

- Kenney said he felt this first assessment was not truly representative of the situation so he rated the occupancy potential of the various facilities which resulted in the following breakdown: Dysart 49.3%; Anson, Hindon and Minden 17.8%; Stanhope 12.1%; Lutterworth 5.3% and others 15.5%.

- he then 'modified' those figures to represent the year round potential, noting that numerous resorts are not open during the winter months. The results: Dysart 50.1%; AHM 18.3%; Stanhope 13.1%; Lutterworth 4.8%, and others 13.7%.

- Kenney then ranked the tax assessment shared by the municipalities as a result of the facilities located within their jurisdiction. The results: Dysart 75.6%, AHM 11.7%, Stanhope 6%, Lutterworth 2.3%, others 4.4%.

- projecting those tax assessment figures into 1986 Kenney predicted Dysart's share would be 80%, AHM 9.2%, Stanhope 5%, Lutterworth 1.9% and others 4.4%.

He asked rhetorically, "How can I say the contribution this municipality makes the Chamber of Commerce is a good investment for the area? I don't think the entire county should be treated as a tourist attraction," Kenney commented.

The councillor then made the following points:

- The Chamber is an agency of the county since the money it receives from the county underwrites the operating expenses of the chamber.

- The county has not provided any direction on how the funds it gives to the chamber are spent. No written directives are in place to guide the spending of the money or assess its effectiveness.

- The chamber cannot be held accountable for its actions because no guidelines have been set down by the county. The county council does not receive reports of the chamber's activities on a regular basis.

- The chamber uses what Kenney termed "unfair and biased tactics to pressure new members and membership renewals." He suggested that members were urged to join on the basis of 'blind faith' rather than business judgement and the point has been made that those who are not members are "leeches." "I know some people who are members of the chamber only to avoid the 'bad press' rather than because they believe in it," Kenney said.

- The chamber has failed to realise the importance of sectors other than tourism. Noting that a tourism study identified the Lake Kashiagawigamog area for tourism related development, he said the chamber has ignored the importance of industrial diversification. He then pointed out that according to one study, most of the available industrial zoned land is in Anson, Hindon and Minden. He said the Chamber budget allowed for tourism related expenses, but not for industrial promotion in the county.

- Kenney claimed the Chamber's efforts benefitted one area of the county more than any other and that funding received from county council was 'grossly unfair' and contrary to the intention of Ontario's equalized assessment program.

- That the so-called 'spin-off' impact of tourism on the county's economy does not in fact, exist.

- That Anson, Hindon and Minden have "performed an act of charity (rather than an act of business investment) by continuous funding on the chamber since 1979.

President responds

In a reaction to the report made at the meeting, Chamber president Rhonda Elstone issued the following statement this week.

"We consider the document in question a biased and personal viewpoint of one member of council. Everyone knows that if you start out with a certain point of view it is possible to find all the ammunition you need to support that particular argument. All you have to do is take facts, figures and statements out of context and rearrange them in support of your viewpoint.

There are many assumptions and accusations made in the documents, but the only fact that it proves is that Dysart has more resorts than any other municipality in Halaiburton County. It would seem to me that a great deal of time and effort has gone into proving an already well known fact. The balance of the report is based on assumptions not facts. It offers no positive or constructive solutions to any real or perceived problems.

The Chamber is more than willing to listen to constructive criticism and work towards a positive solution to any problem. We do not, however, feel the necessity to engage in a debate over assumptions. Nor do we feel it is the Chamber's place to argue the issue of municipal contributions to the county and/or the relative benefits derived thereof."

In addition, a report from the Chamber of Commerce management committee makes the following points in rebuttal to the Kenney reports:

- many of the statements, particularly the quotations taken from the "From the Chamber" column, were out of context.

- his arguments fail to take into consideration the impact of cottagers on tourism related business.

- if his prediction of a dwindling tourism market share for Anson, Hindon and Minden is true, the Minden council should be fighting to reverse that trend rather than just watching it happen.

- to counter the suggestion the chamber is simply a county agency, it is noted that $65,000 is contributed to the chamber's operation through memberships and member participation in various programs.

- county support for the chamber only last year reached the $50,000 mark. Previously, financial support was in the $15,000 range.

- a member of county council is also a voting member on the chamber's board of directors. This representative reports to the county council on the chamber's activities.

- in addition, the chamber reports on its activities twice yearly to the county council, including an audited financial statement.

- the chamber admits that business people are 'pressured' into belonging. "Everyone in business should belong and those who disagree with the Chamber's policies and directions are invited to bring them to the board."

- the chamber contends that a report cited by Kenney to defend his argument also states that the tourist industry is the leading employer in the county. "Either you believe the report or you don't" the chamber report challenges.

- it is impossible to calculate the benefits which one area of the county may garner from the Chamber's activities.

- Kenney's challenge of the 'spin-off theory' is nothing more than a challenge to the chamber to prove him wrong.

- the telephone survey carried out by Kenney is "suspect".

The chamber's assessment concludes, "Since there is no basis to any of Kenney's arguments, and the document offers no positive ideas or suggestions, we therefore feel that it should be dismissed as

Couple die in car accident

A tragic accident on Highway 35 south of Minden has taken the lives of two Toronto residents. The accident is believed to have happened Saturday evening.

The single vehicle accident apparently happened without anyone witnessing the incident. According to a report issued by police, the scene of the mishap did not come to the attention of the authorities until 7 a.m. Sunday morning.

Constable Jim Solway, on routine patrol, noticed a turnbuckle lying in the middle of the road. The piece of hardware was similar to those used in supporting hydro poles.

A broken guide post nearby drew the officer's attention to the east ditch, where some distance from the edge of the roadway the crumpled wreckage of a car could be seen. Further investigation led to the discovery of the two bodies lying some distance from the wreckage.

Dead is 23 year old Bruce Arnold Johnson and 22 year old Susan Louise Watson. According to an autopsy report, the couple died instantly.

Police speculate that the couple was returning to the city late Saturday evening. Johnson was driving, as they headed south on Highway 35. For some reason, the driver failed to negotiate a curve in the road and the vehicle slid sideways into the ditch, rolling over several times before finally coming to rest.

The accident is believed to have taken place some time between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. Saturday night.

Assisting Constable Solway with the investigation was Corporal Bryan Holnbeck. Coroner was Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes of Minden.

Pajama Game: student production a hit

The students of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have succeeded once again in presenting a delightful musical comedy. The students held their final performance of the Broadway hit Pajama Game Saturday evening.

The cast, crew and teachers who presented the enjoyable musical are to be congratulated for their dedication and hard work in mounting a production of this magnitude.

The musical, first presented in the 1950's, recounts a love story between a factory supervisor and one of the members of the sewing room staff. The action takes place in a pyjama factory. As the story unfolds, the employees are struggling to obtain a seven and one half cent per hour raise while their boss is adamant they will not receive it.

The supervisor, is caught between the demands of his boss and his love for the seamstress, who also happens to be a leading member of the Union.

The lead roles of Sid Sorokin, the supervisor and Babe Williams, his new-found love, were ably portrayed by Jamie Wooden and Wendy Sicard. Not only did these students handle their acting duties with authority, their musical talents as revealed in several solo and duet performances, were superb.

The strutting boss who was eventually forced to give in to the workers' demands, was forcefully played by Steve MacNaull.

We were particularly struck by a duet performed by the shop foreman, Hines, played by Eoin Ross and Sorokin's secretary, Mabel, played by Patty Higgins. Those familiar with the musical will recall the song, "I'll never be jealous again." In addition to weaving some intricate harmonies, the number requires exact timing and a strong acting ability. These two were able to pull it off in very convincing style. Their musical performance was topped off with an entertaining soft-shoe number.

The top-hat and tails routine, performed to the music of "Steam Heat" was another highlight of the evening's performance. Shona Ross, Angela Googh, Gayle Higgins and Sandra Heywood did an excellent job on this song and dance presentation.

Other members of the cast, who all contributed to the success of the musical included Todd Powell, Steven Kurtz, Jeff Foran, Janelle Robinson, Karen Wright, Cheryl Wright, Jeanette Pilcher, Real Purnell, Colin Burke and Craig Bugden. Employees of the pyjama factory who formed the chorus and were featured in other numbers during the musical included, Charlene English, Bonnie Moffat, Chris Warburton, Janet Lawson, Brenda Higgins, Helen Lowe, and Cindy Roodenburg.

A musical cannot be a musical without orchestration. The pit orchestra, under the direction of Rick

The producer and director of the musical was Miss Nancy Robichaud. The choreographer was Mrs. Heather Scully. Numerous other students, teachers and friends helped behind the scenes to ensure the success of the show.

It is encouraging to see the growth of this type of presentation at the high school. We understand that musicals were once a regular feature of H.H.S.S. life. With last year's L'il Abner and the Pajama Game this year, we hope a tradition has been re-established, a tradition that will continue for years to come.

The representatives of the Chamber of Commerce were invited to attend a meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden council in April. It is expected they will provide a detailed rebuttal of the Kenney position at that time.

Cummins improves

Anson, Hindon and Minden Township councillor Larry Cummins could be returning home later this week.

The councillor has been confined to hospital in Toronto for the past ten days after suffering a heart attack while vacationing in Mexico. According to reports, Cummins' condition has improved greatly. It was expected that he would be able to return today or Thursday.

Observations

Some observations on the report on the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce by Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Gary Kenney, and the Chamber's response.

• We have to agree with the Chamber's observation that Kenney's presentation Thursday was anything but constructive. The councillor challenged the Chamber of a number of contentious points, but by not offering positive alternatives, Kenney leaves his obviously well-researched probe, open to be dismissed because of its totally destructive tone.

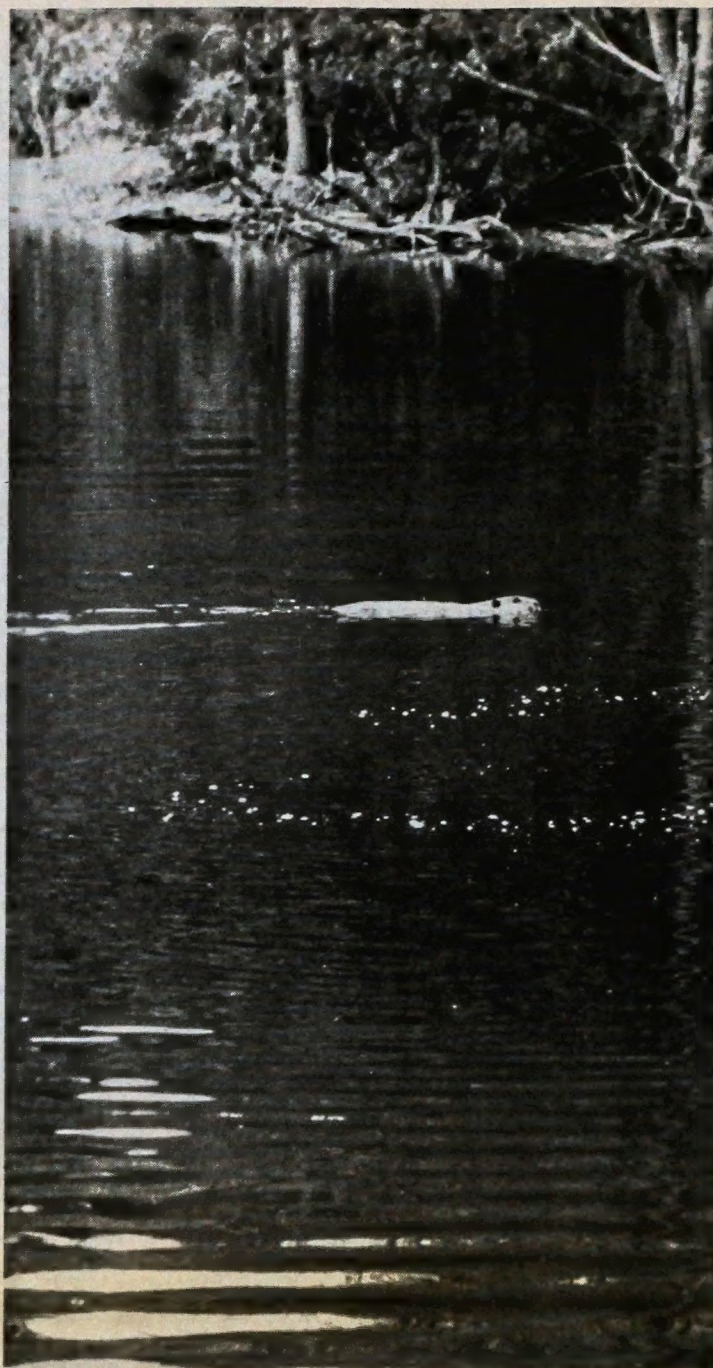

• The Chamber of Commerce should not be allowed, however, to hide behind that excuse, no matter how enticing. Kenney has presented some serious challenges to the Chamber's raison-d'être. These challenges should not go unanswered. They should be addressed in as substantial a manner as possible if the Chamber wants to maintain its credibility.

• It's worth noting the largest municipal ad (one half page) in the Chamber of Commerce 1983 directory came from Anson, Hindon and Minden. If memory serves us correctly, councillor Kenney was the prime motivator behind the township placing the ad in the Chamber publication.

• Councillor Kenney's argument was well presented. The information led from point to point, helping to build his case. But to what end? Some conclusions were implied but none were stated. Should Anson, Hindon and Minden abandon the Chamber, start its own organization, attempt to reform the existing structure?

• Was a municipal council meeting the best forum for this presentation? Some feel it was the wrong time and the wrong place. The other three members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council (Larry Cummins was absent) offered little to indicate their position on the question. Kenney went to great lengths to point out he was speaking for himself and not the township. Certainly the fact he was allowed to use the council meeting as a forum indicates a desire on the part of the other councillors to have the matter aired.

• The Chamber's contention that the opinions expressed were one sided, biased and slanted, was absolutely right. When someone wants to change your point of view, they don't present arguments which contradict their own stance. The Chamber representatives, as lobbyists, do it all the time.

The history of man is rich in the lore of superstition and legend, so it is not surprising that many familiar birds had their own traditional stories as well. As Will Barber outlines in Birds in Our Lives, many similar superstitions seem to have sprung up in cultures widely separated.

For example, members of the owl family were widely regarded as death's messengers. The ancient Roman naturalist Pliny described owls as "the funeral birds of night", and British warriors dreaded the sight of an owl perched on their castle battlements, for it signified that a member of the family was about to die. Similarly, the native Indians of the south-western U.S.A. saw strong connections between owls and death, and always kept owl feathers on hand to give to a dying person, since his soul was believed to pass into the body of an owl at death.

On a less morbid note, the early-evening call of an owl in a Welsh village was believed to signal that some nearby maiden had surrendered her chastity!

The raven, crow and jays families also seem to have unsavoury reputations in the legend world. European crows were said to visit the underworld each year to give the devil his due in the form of feathers. The American blue-jay was reportedly never seen in some parts on Friday, since on that day the jays carried news of the world to the devil.

Not all of the birds were viewed in such a negative way. The Irish regarded robins and wrens as "God's two holy men". The chattering, active wrens were affectionately regarded by Cherokee Indians as busy-bodies, who were particularly interested in learning the sex of newborn children. Many of the smaller birds were credited with the ability to speak, and some, like the ruby-throated hummingbird, with always speaking truthfully.

One of the most graphic legends is the story of the redpoll, who earned his reddish foreparts by stealing a glowing coal from the distant fire of a ferocious bear and carrying it home to his Indian friends. Since that long ago day, the redpoll has a rich red glow on breast and brow, and mankind has always had fire.

Editor:

In reply to the two articles in your March issue on the play of ex-Huskie players from Haliburton playing for Minden Juveniles and were the cause of Minden losing the game. It is sad that two people in Minden, could be so narrow minded.

I coached the Huskie Junior 'C' team for a while in the 1982/83 season. When I looked down the bench at the line up of players I had, out of seventeen players on the bench, eleven were from Minden. We did not have a good season as everyone knows, but never once did I hear a Haliburton player put the blame on a Minden boy for the loss. You play as a team win or lose.

As for the game in Minden on February 25 between Minden and Thornton, Kevin Warburton who is an ex-Huskie scored two of the three goals Minden got that night, what else do you want? As for putting Scott Rae down for his penalties, the guy is a good hockey player, and when on the ice, he has the puck most of the time so naturally, the other team is constantly after him to get it back.

Over the past ten years, I have coached most of the boys on the Minden team. They are a super bunch of guys and when playing the game of hockey, will always give everything they got to win a game. They were beaten by a bigger and better team from Thornton. The Thornton team is made up of mostly 18 year old boys and the Minden team has at least five 16 year old boys on it.

To the Minden team, it was a good team effort, but you still lost. To the winners, I congratulate you and to the losers, my respects. To the young men from both towns, let's try to keep the friendship between the two towns going and try to set an example for the adults and businessmen in the two towns who can't get along.

The good Lord did not just put us on this earth to hate our fellow man because he happens to live in a different town.

I would just like to thank the Minden Minor Hockey for the excellent treatment my son Kevin received while playing for the Juveniles. As for the ladies who wrote the article, this is the kind of garbage that has kept Northern Ireland's people fighting for years. Let's put it behind us and get on with the hockey season.

Gary Warburton.

We are writing in response to a letter in last week's Times, regarding Minden Juveniles' game against Thornton.

We will begin on a personal note by stating that our association with Haliburton, players, parents and executive, has been a very rewarding experience. These are a class group of people just as you will find in Minden.

In regard to the protest of a Junior player, we were informed that he had played 3 games after January 10 making him ineligible. There was also no bench clearing brawl that we are aware of.

Minor hockey executives from both Minden and Haliburton agreed that it would be advantageous to minor hockey in the county to affiliate the Junior and Juvenile teams. We personally would like to see this

Cathy Kinsmen finds success with a show business career

In the world of show business, it is a long and arduous journey up the ladder of success. But, for all the disappointments and setbacks, it is still an exciting business, one that former Minden resident Cathy Kinsman is thoroughly enjoying.

Cathy hasn't made it to the top of that ladder, but she has made an impact, both in Canada and the United States. If the goals she has set for herself are reached, there is every likelihood Cathy could become that proverbial singer from a small town who makes it big.

With a number of single recordings, an album, another in the works, television, stage and concert appearances, many people feel she is well on her way to stardom.

Cathy is a native of Grimsby, Ontario. She moved to Minden with her family when she was six years of age. She graduated from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School in 1977.

"Throughout high school I was thinking about my future," Cathy recalls. "Reality said I should follow a career related to psychology. However, my dreams and heart led me to show business."

Her interest in singing and performing was fueled by experiences at HHSS. She appeared in an operetta presented by the high school students and spent several summers appearing with various groups at Highlands resorts and restaurants.

"I received a great deal of encouragement from the high school music teacher Bill Gliddon and Marilyn Stouffer," Cathy stated. Marilyn Stouffer is the conductor of the Guild of Fine Arts Choral Society. "These people gave me the push I needed to pursue a musical career."

Following graduation from high school, Cathy was accepted at Sheridan College to study music and theatre. The course was a rigorous one that covered almost all aspects of performing. The course included the production of a number of shows during the school year and so when she wasn't in class, Cathy would often be rehearsing for an upcoming presentation. "Those two years at college were filled with 12 to 14 hour days," she recalls.

When she graduated from Sheridan College she discovered that the work had just begun. "In college everything was planned for us. It was in many ways very comfortable, although it was a lot of work. However, once you graduate, you're on your own. You have to fend for yourself. You have to start building what you hope will be a successful career."

Building a career takes time and effort as Cathy discovered. She spent a year "knocking on doors", making contacts, introducing herself, preparing and distributing demonstration tapes. Along the way she discovered more than once that the phrase, "don't call us...we'll call you," was not just some line from a movie.

Cathy weathered that first frustrating year in Toronto but found her patience wearing thin. "I decided that I couldn't wait for someone to come to me, so with Warren Snyder, we set up our own company." With Warren's help Cathy recorded and released her first single, Fly Free Away (The Hostage Song).

She was somewhat cautious about this record because of the basis for the song. "It was written as an emotional reaction to the taking of U.S. embassy personnel as hostages in Iran. I don't know why I was so wrapped up in that incident," she confided. "After I had written the song, I was hesitant to record it. I was concerned people would think I was just taking advantage of the predicament of the hostages and the emotions surrounding the event."

Teaming up with producer/arranger Craig Ruhnke, Cathy did record the song. She took the tape to a radio station in New York State. The negative reaction she had been concerned about never surfaced.

Cathy Kinsman

Following the recording of her first song, she formed her own record company, "Songmaster". To follow was another single and then her first album. The album, entitled "It's All Up To You", contains ten songs, all written by Cathy. A number of singles have been released since then, one with Craig Ruhnke entitled "In The Movies" was on the top 30 adult contemporary charts for 19 weeks. The recording is receiving airplay in both Los Angeles and Nashville, the two most important recording centres in the United States.

"Borders do not exist as far as talent is concerned," Cathy commented. "The United States has the vehicle, machinery, and ability to promote talent. Canada is just starting to come into its own in this regard. I want to be a part of this."

We asked Cathy if she might have some advice for young people considering a career in show business. She offered a number of suggestions.

"I think anyone contemplating a show business career should obtain additional formal education after high school," she said. "Don't try to go directly into show business. It's a cut-throat business and I don't think someone fresh out of high school would be emotionally ready for it. Colleges and universities prepare you for a a lot more than just the subjects you study," she added. "You have to believe in yourself. Be determined. Don't let anyone tell you you can't do it." Cathy noted some people tried to dissuade her from following a show business career. "They had the best of intentions. They didn't want to see me disappointed if I failed. They wanted to protect me."

"You mustn't be afraid to fail. There are things to be learned from failure, use those to your advantage. If you don't try something you'll never know whether you could do it. You'll never know the satisfaction of success."

"Above all, before you get into show business, make sure you love the art.

It can be a very frustrating business."

Cathy has obviously been able to overcome any frustration the world of show business has placed in her path. As well she has expanded into areas other than recording. She appears in concerts, has written a script and musical score for a movie and has continued to expand her acting experience.

Cathy may not have climbed to the top of the show business ladder yet, but she has shown that with talent and determination success can be achieved, even for someone from a small town.

The first round in the "Great Highlands Winter Photo Contest" is over and we have two winners to announce at this time. First prize and dinner for two at the Harvest Room goes to Bruce Turner of Donald for his "kids gathering sap" photo which was included with a dozen other excellent pictures that he submitted. Second prize goes to Jim Tomlinson of Minden for his "Ice Races" study of the competitions at the Minden Fair Grounds this winter. Jim has earned two tow tickets at Sir Sam's, good for any time next season.

An honourable mention goes to Eileen Crawford at Hart Lodge who brought us in some pictures taken some time ago by the Ministry of Tourism that we were able to make use of in our new directory. Since the pictures were not taken by her we couldn't include them in the contest of course, but we do appreciate Eileen providing them for our use.

The second round in the contest is open for entries until the end of April. We are opening the rules to allow colour pictures to be entered because we find very few of you are taking black and white photographs any more. We therefore will consider any winter picture that includes people enjoying the various winter activities in the County in either colour or black and white.

We have two more tow tickets from Sir Sam's, a gift certificate from Black's Hardware and are still open for more prize donations for round two. Our sincere thanks to Sir Sam's and the Harvest Room for the prizes in round one and to all of those who entered photos in the contest.

1983 directory published

The new Highlands directory is now being distributed and will shortly be mailed to 15,000 property owners. For the first time the Directory has been produced in co-operation with Central Ontario Travel Association and this appears to be a very efficient way of handling this. Many of the advertisements you will see in our directory will be repeated in the 75,000 C.O.T.A. books that are yet to be printed. As a result Haliburton's section in this directory will be much stronger than in the past. Over $33,000 in advertising was placed in the two directories from the Highlands, more than from any other region in Central Ontario.

The back covers, inside and out, will reappear on the C.O.T.A. book, the Victoria book, the Durham book, the York book, and the Quinte Isle book.

Walter Thomas who has worked with the Chamber on a good number of projects was responsible for selling this new concept to the members and we are sure that you will agree he has made an excellent effort. Congratulations Walter on another job well done.

Off to the show

By the time most of you are reading this we'll be off to the "Big Smoke" for another Sportsman Show. It's a ten day grind that we look forward to with a certain amount of dread considering the long hours and simply being in downtown Toronto that long. On the other hand we do look forward to this opportunity each year to talk one on one with such great numbers of potential tourists to get a feel for what kind of a year it is going to be. We never fail to come home with some pretty strong indications of what the public wants and whether or not they are ready to spend money to have it.

This year we are pleased to have five of our children's camp camps participating in the exhibit with their own section. They include Kilcoo Camp, Camp Gay Venture, Camp Kandalore, Camp Allsaw and Camp Calumet. In addition Haliburton Hockey Haven has moved to a location directly across the aisle from us so we do anticipate a lot of interest in this activity.

The coverlets made on the 100 inch loom and being raffled by both the Guild of Fine Arts and the Minden Library-Culture Centre will be on display and we will be selling draw tickets for both organizations.

We will attempt to send a column up from the show during the next two weeks, but please don't count on it. The atmosphere is not conducive to being creative.

Wintario grants announced

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Last week the Ministers of Tourism & Recreation and Citizenship & Culture kindly notified me of the successful applicants from Victoria Haliburton to receive approval for capital grants. Of course, everyone knows how strongly I support Wintario grants, especially as it applies to our more rural areas. In looking over the provincial list of recipients, I find that our counties have fared very well. In fact, over the years, our counties must be near the top as recipients in comparison to other areas. This is a tribute to the volunteer spirit of our people. You put your program together and worked hard to see it achieved.

The Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton will receive $6,286.00 for renovations and upgrading of lighting.

The township of Bexley will receive $8,662.00 for the installation of lighting and bleachers at the Bexley Legion Park.

The Minden Wild Water Affiliation will receive $37,000.00 to build a training and competition centre of national and international calibre on the Gull River.

The town of Lindsay has been awarded $145,267.00 to help construct a community hall and gymnasium at the Queen Victoria School. This will be a great asset to that part of town.

Highway contracts

I am pleased with the award of a contract for Highway 648 in Haliburton County. The contract is for grading, drainage, granular base and hot mix paving on Highway 648 from 1.2 km north of Highland Grove southerly to Highway 121 for 11.1 km.

This project on Highway 648 is for minor reconstruction. Reconstruction will include grade revisions, drainage upgrading, treatment of commercial and side-road entrances, shoulder paving and widening of pavement on curves. All of the above treatments will be carried out at selected locations where required to provide safer and smoother driving conditions.

Work on the project is scheduled to begin in May, 1983 with completion set for mid-summer, 1983. The contract is awarded to K.J. Beamish Construction Company Limited of Thornhill, Ontario, at a cost of $562,708.

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications is currently preparing to improve Secondary Highway 505 from the junction of highway 48, northerly to the junction of Highway 503 at "Uphill" - 19.0 km. The highway forms the east/west boundary of Eldon, Bexley, Laxton, Carden, Digby, and Dalton Townships, within the County of Victoria.

New sidewalks proposed

repairing the sidewalks in front of the Rockcliffe Tavern and improving the ramps onto the bridge would be about $50,000. The municipality currently has $60,000 earmarked for downtown improvements.

A second phase to the improvements, widening the sidewalks in the core area between the CIBC and the bridge would cost an estimated $60 to $70,000, according to the consultant. It was noted however, that the municipality has applied for a NEED grant which covers a number of improvements to the core area of the village. It was pointed out that if the grant is approved, a portion of the funds can be used on the sidewalk work, extending the value of $60,000 already set aside by the township.

The members of the BIA requested that any major redevelopment work not be carried out in the downtown area during the summer months. It was suggested if the work could not be done by the end of June, it should be delayed until September.

Members of the BIA also discussed the proposed mini-fairs, with Councillor Gary Kenney explaining the details of the events. He noted that if the projects did not benefit the existing merchants in the community, the mini-fairs would be cancelled. "The purpose in presenting this idea is to bring more people into town, not to hurt the local merchants," Kenney explained.

The councillor noted that the Agnes Jamieson Gallery had expressed an interest in sponsoring the first mini-fair with displays from local artists being shown. The merchants in attendance agreed to allow the idea to be tried with the art presentation being set for June 10.

Gord Crosby also reported to the meeting that initial investigation into the re-routing of Main Street traffic along Milne Street showed that the project could cost upwards of $150,000. He had been looking into the feasibility of the undertaking which had been suggested in the CAUSE report.

Crosby noted that closing South Water Street in front of the post office could cause problems for drivers on Main Street. He said that those wishing to leave town would have to make a 'U' turn so they wouldn't be "trapped" heading north. He suggested, if the proposal went ahead, that a single lane, one way east, connecting Main Street with South Water Street would be required for these drivers. He also noted this one way single lane would detract greatly from the 'civic square' concept the architects had envisioned for the area in front of the post office.

Crosby said there would be problems in closing Newcastle Street at the Main Street intersection in that there is not enough room for a cul de sac to be constructed. He said the acquisition of enough land and the construction problems created by the steep hill, would make the project very expensive.

Crosby noted he had not completed his study of the changing traffic pattern proposal and would report to the organization at a later date on his findings.

Crosby gave a similar report to the municipal council the following day at their regular meeting. At that meeting, however, he added that the extension of the proposed sidewalks, to the hospital and the library, would cost about $25,000. This area lies outside the BIA.

instituted on all levels in the two centres.

The young men and women attend the school and participate in all aspects of school sports without animosity, only when the names "Minden Monarchs" and "Haliburton Huskies" appear on hockey sweaters, does the prejudicial nonsense begin and it would appear to be much more prevalent in some of the parents.

These young people have their years in high school as a common denominator and we feel that an exchange of hockey players is a healthy and progressive step into future relations between our two communities.

They can accomplish this by themselves if they are not influenced by the archaic reasoning evidenced in last week's letter to the editor.

It is our sincere hope that our efforts have not been wasted.

Congratulations Juveniles on an excellent season.

Editor:

To All Haliburton County Hockey Fans:

It was with deep regret, sadness and a touch of anger that I read "Puck Talk" and the letter to the Editor in last week's issue of The Times.

My family, as a great many families in the area, have been staunch supporters of Minor Hockey for years.

Throughout these years, we have all, at one time or another, witnessed games and incidents not to our liking and there is no hard and fast rule to overcome it. Disgust, pointing the finger and laying blame is not the answer.

There are many aspects of Minor Hockey a fan does not view or take into consideration when watching a game such as the one in question. Parents, executive, coaches and players trying to hold together, countless hours of practice, travelling arrangements (etc.) When a situation such as this arises, one must gather up the pieces and pull together in a still greater effort, not throwing up our hands in defeat, breaking apart and shattering what little is left.

I have come up through the ranks of Minor Hockey, so to speak, as a player and a parent. Tyke, Novice, Atom, Pee Wee, Bantam, etc. I have watched these teams year after year, working hard, playing their hearts out and fighting a losing battle just to make a good showing in their respective leagues. This aspect of the sport causes pent-up frustrations which emerge in later years.

The coaching skill is there, as is the talent, potential and a desire to win. There is however, one element lacking, strength and numbers. For this reason many residents from both towns feel it is in the interest of the Association to combine, making divisions stronger in both towns giving each team a better chance of becoming a winner.

Many residents of both areas have fought for just this for years. The Affiliation agreement with the Huskies was our first big step in that direction. Opening old wounds is only going to widen the gap. Minden has come to the aid of the Huskies, as they have for us, it's a two-way street.

The intent of this letter is not to have everyone choose sides and come out fighting, only to point out, "There are two sides!"

I hope the readers will remember one important saying, "United we stand - divided we fall!"

Neil Burk, Minden.

This goal capped a spectacular one man effort during the third playoff game between Hartwick Construction and Home Hardware. The game was a seesaw battle which ended with a 6-6 tie. The end of the game was marred by a shouting match between the referee and Jeff Campbell. The 6-6 tie also raised confusion concerning overtime.

Novice

The Minden Novice team won the Gravenhurst Novice 'B' tournament last weekend, taking both their games through some solid team play.

The first game resulted in a shut-out for Minden goaltender Steven Beaver. The three Minden goals were scored by two youngsters. Jeremy Phillips picked up the first two markers assisted by Aaron Hie. The two switched places for the last effort with Phillips assisting on the Hie score.

In the Minden-Gravenhurst Championship game Hie scored 4 goals in an excellent one man effort. Two of the goals were unassisted, while the others were assisted by Chris Todd and Derek Greer. The other Minden goal in the 5-2 game came from Kevin Buchanan assisted by T.J. Lee.

The boys received individual trophies as well as a trophy for display at the arena.

Their next game is in the Glen Dart Tournament in Haliburton on Saturday, March 19.

Atoms

The Atoms lost an exhibition game against Haliburton last Saturday by a 4-1 tally. Stephen Schrader spoiled the Haliburton goalie's shut-out.

The teams meet again in Haliburton on the evening of March 18.

Bantams

The Bantams won one game in a tournament in Bobcaygeon last weekend. The first game against Orono was a 1-0 loss for the home club but they turned it around for the next game and beat the tournament host, Bobcaygeon 3-1. All the scoring in the game was done in the first period. Andy Miller picked up the first goal assisted by David Schell and Scott Russell. Bobcaygeon then scored. Glenn Hall scored the winner with Miller assisting. Craig Crowe added the insurance marker.

The next Minden game saw them soundly beaten by Northminster from Peterborough. John Wells scored Minden's first goal assisted by Andy Miller and Gord Wood, then Wood scored from David Schell in the 9-2 loss.

The team suffered their third loss and Bracebridge won the consolation playoffs in a game in Bracebridge Sunday. Minden had one goal from Andy Miller from David Schell and Craig Crowe against six Bracebridge scores. Bracebridge won the series 3-1.

Juveniles

Due to a printing error in last week's report, one of Minden's goals was omitted. The goal was in the first period at 2:58. Scot Hamilton passed the puck to Kevin Warburton who scored on a short-handed effort. Further to last week's Puck Talk, as a result of last week's Juvenile game write up, there has been some discussion on the subject of penalties. It is still my opinion that hockey can be played without so many penalties and as far as who is taking them - all you have to do is check the game scoresheet, it tells the story better than anyone.

Along that line, here is a quote from Monday, March 14 Toronto Star by Rick Fraser, about Toronto's 5-2 win over Detroit.

"The Wings attempted to lay the muscle on but they paid the price as they were assessed ten penalties by referee Ron Wicks while the Leafs took only 4."

"There is nothin' wrong with playing a physical game but not at the expense of taking all those penalties," Nykoluk said. "I think the penalties caught up with them."

The Juveniles played their first game in the best of seven for the Muskoka Cup in Gravenhurst. Minden lost the Sunday game 8-6.

Derby move

The Minden Kinsmen Demolition Derby is moving inside. Inside the fence that is.

A spokesman for the Kinsmen Club, Tom Prentice asked Anson, Hindon and Minden township council March 10 if the annual event could be held behind the fence adjacent to the curling rink. The council approved of the change.

Prentice explained that the spectators would remain on the outside of the fence while the cars would be inside. The separation would mean greater safety for the spectators and simplify the organization of the pit area.

Previously, when the driving took place beside the tennis courts, the pit area was located in the lower parking lot at the arena. This meant cars would have to drive up through the spectator area to reach the competition area. By locating the action behind the fence, the club will be able to control the crowds better. The pits will also be located behind the competition area providing easy access for the drivers.

Ice racing

Prentice, as the local organizer for the car racing on ice, also sought permission from the council to hold the events next winter. He noted that the damage caused to the fence along the one side of the fair grounds would be repaired as soon as the weather permitted. The fence sustained minor damage this season when a car crashed into it.

Prentice noted the ice races will not need to use the concession road (which leads to the ball diamond) if the snowmobile drag races are moved to a location at the rear of the arena. He pointed out that with the drag racing track no longer taking up space in the upper level, the ice racing oval can be moved southerly to keep it within the fenced area and off the concession allowance.

The council granted approval for the change and for the racers to hold events next winter in Minden.

Noting that Tom Prentice is heavily involved in a number of racing events in the community, Councillor Gary Kenney praised the efforts of the resident in bringing visitors to the community. He noted that a number of merchants had commented to him about the increased traffic on certain weekends this winter, traffic which they attributed to the attraction of car racing on ice. The appreciation was echoed by other members of council.

New tracks approved for winter events

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association has been given permission to construct a sno-cross and oval track at the eastern end of the Minden arena parking lot near where the Boy Scout hut is presently located. The agreement in principle for the facility was granted at the March 10 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

The president of the HCSA, Tom Prentice, was in attendance to explain the proposal.

Prentice told the meeting that his organization would like to hold two sanctioned events in the community next winter. One event would be held in conjunction with the winter carnival. The date for the second has yet to be determined.

He said the tracks would be constructed in such a manner that spectators could watch from a nearby hill. This has a number of advantages, according to Prentice. The spectators are a safe distance from the racing machines, and it would mean the spectators could be treated to non-stop action. While races are taking place on one course, the machines could be moved into position on the second course. When one race ended, the other would be ready to begin.

Prentice has also suggested that the snowmobile drag races on grass could be held in the centre portion of the former ice racing track.

When questioned about providing financial support to the municipality's recreation department for any additional work involved by their staff, Prentice pointed out that the HCSA was a volunteer organization and it did not have funds readily available. However, he suggested that if the sanctioned events become popular and attract large crowds the organization would probably be able to provide some payment to the municipality. He noted the HCSA was willing to do all the work necessary to prepare the tracks for the events next winter. He said the work should also help improve the aesthetics in the area, especially during the summer months.

The council gave its approval for two summer (grass drags) and two winter sanctioned events to be held at the new facility.

New road subsidy formula explained

While the municipal council didn't appear to be too sure what the new subsidy rate is going to be, they have been assured that the municipality will not be receiving any less than it did last year from the province to assist with the maintenance of roads. The confusion came at the March 10 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council. Ministry of Transportation and Communications representative Don Glashan was on hand to attempt to clarify the muddy waters.

He said the MTC has reduced the over-all subsidy rate to municipalities to a flat 50%. A single rate was selected because various municipalities were being subsidized at differing rates. However, to ease the change-over to the new system, the MTC will provide a grant this year of 8.8% bringing the municipality's total to 58.8%. That means the ministry will be providing the township with $164,000 of its own tax dollars on roads.

The MTC representative noted that the municipality's basic needs were determined by averaging the last three Don Glashan said the municipality would probably be hard pressed to keep costs below last year's level, taking into consideration the effects of inflation.

Road construction

The MTC representative was not very optimistic about the municipality receiving supplementary funds for road construction work in 1983. He said the township would have to apply for such projects and the ministry has placed road construction at the bottom of the priority list. He said money would probably be available to complete the work started last fall on Prince, Newcastle and Main streets.

"That work was carried out under the province's BILD program," Glashan said. "I have no indication that money will be available this year, but there always is a possibility."

Glashan noted that the ministry doesn't "just hand out money, you've got to ask for it," the suggestion being that the municipality should get its bid in early if it wants to continue the road redevelopment program currently underway.

year's expenditure on roads. He pointed out that the additional grant would probably be reduced slowly over the next few years while the 50% subsidy would continue with the spending of the previous three years being used to establish a basis for the subsidy amount.

Several councillors question this last point. Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas pointed out that efficient municipalities, those who kept their roads spending in check, would suffer since the so called "basic needs" would be determined by spending during the previous three years. Councillor Gary Kenney noted, "If we spend less, our subsidy in coming years will drop ... we would be penalized for being budget conscious. There is no incentive here to reduce our spending."

Kenney also suggested that since there was some question in his mind about the method used in determining the assessments for various property in the municipality, that the township could have further grounds for appealing the formula used by the ministry.

Minister leaves for posting in Texas

Minden is losing one of its ministers to the sunny south.

Rick Brewster, the minister at Allsaw Pentecostal Church, has accepted a position in Spring, Texas, a suburb of Houston.

Brewster was minister at the Allsaw church for about three and a half years after coming from Lucan, Ontario, where he had served as "a youth minister". After moving to Minden in 1979, he and his wife Debbie had their first child, a daughter Angela was born a year ago this past Christmas.

Brewster received his training at the Zion Bible Institute in Providence, Rhode Island leaving his home in New Brunswick. Debbie is from Utah and received her training in Dallas. The 2 met in Texas.

The Brewsters recall many happy events which occurred during their stay in the Highlands. They presented drive-in movies last summer. The films were projected onto the back of the church and sound came through the A.M. radios in the cars by means of a small transmitter. The finishing touch was the popcorn and Koolaid distributed to the patrons. "I think that was the highlight of our time of service here," he commented.

Another highlight in their more than three years here was the "group of folks" who went to Haiti to build a church. The seven people took manpower and money down to the Caribbean island and within 10 days had built a large thatch roof hut.

"Seventy people now meet in the building we constructed," he said.

"We've really enjoyed our time here in the Highlands and we're going to miss the people in Minden," said Brewster. Both he and his wife agreed they will miss the "beautiful fall colours" while they live in Texas.

Day of Prayer held

The annual World Day of Prayer was held last Thursday at Hyland Crest auditorium.

The yearly event was hosted by Our Lady of Fatima Roman Catholic Church with assistance from members of the congregation at St. Paul's Anglican and Minden United Churches.

The theme for this year's service was designed by women in the Caribbean. The local gathering was fortunate in having Marion Lodenquai, a native of the Caribbean, as a speaker.

She explained that the islands of the Caribbean were settled by people of many different races, including native Arawak Indians, Europeans from Spain, France, Britain, slaves from Africa and imported labour from India, China and the far east.

Noting that she was a Jamaican Chinese Christian who has now taken up Canadian citizenship, Mrs. Lodenquai commented, "I feel humble indeed to be able to bring you all greetings and to join you all in paying tribute, homage and giving praise to our Lord Jesus Christ."

In leading the congregation in prayer, Mrs. Lodenquai said, "Dear Father in heaven, we implore you, teach us all to have respect for ourselves, and in doing so to be tolerant, forgiving, loving and respectful to each other. Let us all be united in our undying love, faith and trust in Thee. Please continue to smile sweetly down on us all today, and all the days to come."

Music for the special service was provided by Mrs. Toos Reid and Mrs. Rose Berry of the Roman Catholic parish. Readers were Mrs. Carrie Drysdale of the Anglican church, Mrs. Grace Coburn of Minden United and Mrs. Julie Gray from the Roman Catholic church.

Minden and area residents will have an opportunity next Tuesday to hear a presentation of classical guitar music. The musician will perform at the Library-Cultural Centre.

Ramon Tarranco, a native of Cuba, was born in 1951 and moved to Canada with his family a year later.

In his youth, Tarranco was attracted to rock music, but he later found the classical music had greater appeal. This interest led him to four years of musical study at the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

The guitarist studies under a number of tutors including, Eli Kassner, Norbert Kraft, John Mills, and Lenny Bream as well as composition teacher - flugelhorn player Fred Stone.

Tarranco is now a guitar instructor and has begun to compose his own music.

His appearance at the Minden Library Cultural Centre is sponsored by the Haliburton County Public Library System. The program begins at 7:30 p.m.

Oil policy is destructive

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

For some time now, I have believed and stated publicly that the policies of the federal government have been the largest factor in the escalation of the cost of living and therefore inflation. Thankfully, recent data shows that inflation figures are on the decline.

One sector which continues to remain uncontrolled is the energy sector. The energy estimates recently tabled in the House of Commons show that the government plans to increase the number of person years in the energy program by 30.4% in 1983-84. The total spending in the program is estimated to grow by 29.2% in 1983-84. In the year of 6% the National Energy Program will cost us an additional 29.2%. Total spending is predicted to be $153,165,000, a far cry from the $20,301,000 spent in 1979-80.

I have, in previous articles, detailed the number of oil drilling rigs which the National Energy Program (NEP) forced out of Canada. As stated in November in the Toronto Sun, "The National Energy Program, NEP, is also part of the scheme to drive private competitors out of Alberta (and Newfoundland and wherever petroleum is found)".

Now we see the effect that the pricing policy set down by the NEP is having on the tourism industry in Canada. In 1981, Canadian tourists spent $3.5 billion in the United States while U.S. visitors spent $2.5 billion in Canada. This billion dollar gap was expanded in 1982. Why do Canadians prefer to travel in the United States and fewer Americans come north now? The biggest single factor is the discrepancy in the cost of gasoline in Canada and the United States. A survey of gasoline prices on March 7 of this year showed the following:

Average Price of Unleaded Regular Gas

Average ¢/litre

Vancouver, B.C.	48.9	32.0	Seattle, Washington
Edmonton, Alberta	40.0	35.9	Houston, Texas
Winnipeg, Man.	47.3	37.2	St. Paul, Minn.
Windsor, Ont.	47.0	39.7	Detroit, Mich.
Toronto, Ont.	48.3	39.1	Buffalo, N.Y.
Saint John, N.B.	49.0	35.4	Boston, Mass.

This table points out that Ontario prices are on average 8¢/litre or 32¢/gallon greater than in neighbouring states. This means an additional $5 per 60 litre fillup. This, in a province where tourism is the largest employer, providing jobs for nearly 12% of the population. The NEP has created this gap which directly affects the income of 12% of our residents.

Not only does the Government stubbornly refuse to abandon this destructive policy, we now find out they neglected to make any provision in their negotiations with Alberta to deal with the possibility of a drop in oil prices. If they continue this attitude we will be caught, due to their lack of foresight, in a situation where we will continue to pay artificially high oil prices when the world price is falling.

If your car's out of shape you get rid of it, right? What if your body's out of shape?

Appreciation

The Minden Minor Hockey Association has received more than just a vote of confidence from one Minden resident, who shared his luck.

David Phillips won a $500 pot in a recent 50-50 draw sponsored by Minden Minor Hockey. He expressed his thanks, not only for winning the large amount of money, but also for "all the time and effort that the Association and coaches contribute to providing such an excellent experience for my son and all the other children who play hockey."

With the letter of appreciation Mr. Phillips enclosed $50.00.

Farm show a success Did you know?

- Ag. report -

The East Central Farm Show held in Cambray last week, was a real success.

About 500 farmers from across the area attended to view the displays from 48 agricultural businesses which filled the Fenelon Township Community Centre.

There were several different companies at the farm show representing each type of business. As a result, farmers were able to effectively comparison shop for a variety of products they use on their farm. As well, no matter what type of enterprise a farmer had, there were exhibits at the show of interest to him.

This was the first time a farm show has been held in the east central area. Judging from the enthusiasm shown by both exhibitors and farmers attending, this show could become an annual event. The East Central Soil and Crop Improvement Association was the sponsoring organization for the farm show.

Rural women's hearing

How can the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food more effectively and efficiently meet the changing and evolving needs of rural women?

People in Victoria and Haliburton Counties will have an opportunity to express their views on this question at a Rural Women's Hearing on Wednesday, March 30. This hearing will be held in the Conference Room at the Lindsay Agricultural Office with an afternoon session at 1:30 p.m. and an evening session at 7:30 p.m.

Submissions are welcome from both individuals and from groups and organizations.

This hearing gives local people a chance to state their concerns and problems related to the educational needs of rural women. Today rural women are demanding more information and a greater chance for education development to enable them to be more effective in both agricultural productivity and in home management.

The Rural Women's Hearings are being held across Ontario this winter and are being conducted by Molly McGhee, the former director of the Home Economics Branch.

Haliburton farmers meet

The February general meeting of the Haliburton County Farmers Association, graciously hosted on the farm of Ross Warburton and family, dealt with the subject of agricultural products relating to animal health. Attendance was brisk, as always for these farm visits.

Guest speaker was Dale Darroch of Green Cross Agricultural Products, who shared his expertise in the area of animal health products and their application. Of particular interest to area farmers was the demonstration of the use of Bovaid ear tags for control of horn and face flies on cattle.

Mr. Darroch often referred to his own farm operation in which he raises sheep. Hopefully a future general meeting of the association will deal with sheep ranching. He spoke in general terms for all livestock concerning such diseases as white muscle, as well as control and treatment of scours; some aspects of preventative medicine; and parasite control for the farm. Much of the discussion was directed to beef cattle management, as many of our area farmers are cattlemen.

The farmers association is hoping to generate some excitement on the subject of these related products, by forming a supply committee whereby such items would be available to area farmers at reduced prices through bulk buying. Watch upcoming newsletters for more on this service; or contact Dwain Wruth.

The highlight of the evening presented itself when Randy Warburton met a goat named Candy, who proceeded to jump up to face him in such a way it was handy for Randy to ask Randy Candy if things were just dandy in her corner of the barn.

Farmers' market

For the second consecutive year the farmers' association is making plans for a farmers' market each Saturday morning through the summer, in Minden. These types of markets have captured the consumers imaginations across the province, in a weekly event, as agricultural communities band together to stave off the disastrous economic situation, and individuals seek a more personal approach to marketing.

As chairman for the farmers' market committee, I personally attended before the Minden council on February 10, seeking the green light to proceed with organizational matters, as well as clarification as to locating the market. Once again Minden council was actively supportive of the concept, and planning was left pending my attending a planning session for the 'mini' fair concept' for Councillor Gary Kenney.

Maple syrup tour

An interesting tour of some of the farms producing maple syrup is proposed for the farmers' association general meeting in March. Saturday, March 19 is the tentative date for a tour of three syrup operations illustrating varying degrees of technology in the production of maple syrup. Everyone is welcome! Contact your area director, or a member of the association for details.

In years past, senior citizens had to file income tax returns in order to receive Ontario Tax Credits. This has now changed. All qualifying seniors, regardless of income, are entitled to three tax grants, whether or not they file a tax return.

1. Property Tax Grant: Up to $500 (to a couple) who own or rent a home. Payments are sent in two instalments, in May and October, except in the first year, when one lump-sum is paid. Applications are sent out each September to all Old Age Security Pensioners and eligible non-old Age Security seniors automatically.

2. Temporary Home Heating Grant: A $40 home heating grant is mailed to all eligible seniors.

3. Sales Tax Grant: No application is necessary. Every senior citizen receives a $50 sales tax grant each year.

If you intend to build a new home for yourself or wish to renovate an older home, you have until April 30 to apply for the $3,000 Government grant or forgivable loan in the case of renovation. Applications are available at the Haliburton County Information Centre. Drop-in or call. The Centre is a free, confidential, non-partisan public service. Phone 457-2733. Cardiff, Dorset & Kinmount residents call collect.

Question: I am a single parent with two children. There are times when it is difficult to cope. For the sake of my family, I wish I could meet people in a similar situation, for mutual help and moral support.

Answer: A chapter of the "One Parent Families of Canada" has been established in the County very recently.

The first, organizational meeting will be held at the municipal office in Minden on Tuesday, March 8 at 8:00 p.m. The aim of the group can be summed up in just three words, - People Helping People -.

If you wish to join, please call Steven Zeller at 286-3269, or leave your name and number at the Haliburton County Information Centre. Telephone 457-2733.

New fee for airport

Stanhope airport has benefitted from a change in licencing policy which could save the township a few dollars over the long term.

The 1983 licence, discussed at Stanhope's council meeting March 9, is the first to be affected by the Ministry of Transportation and Communication (MTC) change.

MTC has instituted a new procedure requiring the regular $20 fee and the mandatory inspection. However, instead of the customary year long licence, the ministry has changed its licencing policy so that the certificate has an indefinite time span. The continuing licence is subject to the unchanged yearly inspection. If the licence is "suspended for cause", the fee has to be paid again, when the reason for the suspension has been remedied.

The airport is also again eligible for a ministry subsidy.

The subsidy pays half an airport's operating deficit, up to $5,000. Stanhope clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain informed council the subsidy had helped pay for the facility's 1982 deficit.

Bain revealed the deficit came to "a little over $7,000 last year." The subsidy covered $3,761 of the total, alleviating some of the financial burden the municipality incurred with the county's only airport.

Forestry group future uncertain

The Haliburton Forest Owner's Association, one of the first of its type in Canada, has hit rocky ground. The matter of administration costs and questions about third party liability have prompted Dysart council to take a hard look at their agreement to administer government funds for projects in the area. These and other problems also elicited a statement from president Curry Bishop questioning the viability of the program.

Bishop, attended the council meeting for other matters but was asked a few questions by Reeve Murray Fearrey. Bishop said "I have reservations about the feasibility of the thing," responding to some of the Reeve's queries about administration and insurance.

Fearrey said the agreement between Dysart and the federal government names the municipality as sponsor. He said the project would be "chaotic to administer" and said it would require a lot of work. "It will really probably affect our thinking," said the reeve.

"I'm wondering if we can get anyone to work on it," admitted Bishop. The president of the association also said there have been communication problems with Peterborough. He said the Peterborough branch transports items up, sometimes taking a week, when it would be faster through the mail.

Stanhope seeks seniors input

Stanhope township has decided to advertise in both local papers to gauge the interest by senior citizen activities in the township during senior citizen's week June 19 - 25.

Feasibility study chairman Alex Stevenson said he was "hoping we could assess the situation in Stanhope" by advertising and asking seniors drawn by the advertisements their preferences of possible activities.

Stevenson noted the indoor shuffleboard court constructed by the municipality has been well received. He expressed concern, however, that there are not many events tailored to the older residents. "You can find them over at West Guilford's doings, Haliburton's doings and Minden's doings," he said and continued there is little being offered in Stanhope.

"I think it's money well spent," said reeve Harry Davis.

Although council estimated the advertising cost at about $150, more than Stevenson had anticipated, there was still concurrence to continue.

Stanhope clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain was not sure what council would consider a good response to the ads but did say in a mail survey even 15% is considered good. Stevenson said Stanhope has 308 people 56 years of age or older. The number represents 34% of the permanent population of the township.

I should be starting a letter out to you, and here I sit upon my bed feeling rather blue. How can one gather news if one can't go anyplace? So I just sit around my room and look out into space. You can't do this, you can't do that, you must not climb the stairs, all that you're supposed to do is sit in easy chairs. You can't go to chapel service on a Sunday night, to hear what Rev. Burgess says to keep us living right. You can't go to fun & fitness to see what's doing there, unless some one wheels you in a wheelchair. Jack Stewart has been so good to take me to my meals, but when you have to be waited on you know just how it feels. If the Lord hadn't been so good to me in days gone by, I think I would sit down and have a real good cry. But I should not be sitting here, feeling sorry for myself, I was hoping for a few more years before they laid me on the shelf. I'll just cheer up and do my best to tell some of the happenings here at Hyland Crest.

Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church took the service in the chapel on Tuesday. Barbara came to sing, and Agnes came to play. After the service Rev. Wicks came down the stair, read a portion of the scripture and remembered us in prayer. Many residents of Hyland Crest have had bad colds, some in the throat, others in the chest, one poor lady stepped outside, didn't know what to expect, had no scarf around her head and got it in the neck.

Bill Payne and Eldon Deacon came Tuesday night, entertained us for an hour and did the job just right. When the program was over, they came downstairs, sang a favourite tune or two before we said our prayers.

Ladies are busy in the craft room and you should see the dolls. Baby dolls and grandma dolls, white and black and yellow dolls. Some in party dresses some in overalls.

Everything is pointing to an early spring. The frogs are croaking in the swamp, the birds are on the wing. Today the sun is shining, everything seems grand, the farmers say if it stays this way, they'll soon be on the land.

Wednesday night the "Sour Notes" from Lochlin came over to our gym, they entertained us for an hour with lots of zip and vim. When they first started we thought they were pickled, but when they had performed for us, why we were really tickled.

The United Church ladies from Maple Lake came Thursday afternoon served us with a dainty lunch, and led us in a sing song with some good old tunes. It's nice to have these different groups coming in each week to give us added pleasure. Thursday night the bingo was conducted by Margaret Prentice, their two boys and Don Crowe. Thank you for coming to put on the show.

Alfred Richardson has changed his mind. He thinks it's for the best. He will stay single then. What he will do when he is through is anybody's guess. Some of our friends have been in hospital and we welcome them back.

Grace Coburn, who lives just across the lane comes each Friday afternoon to help to entertain. Fred Ballard comes along when Norma isn't here, these three we hold most dear.

We hear the card party turned out grand. Mrs. Art Porter won the most points and Bob Smith the most lone hands. Our administrator is a very modest man, he avoids the limelight whenever he can. He had a birthday on March the twelfth day, he was just going to let it slip by and wouldn't say. From the residents, kitchen staff, and all the nurses too, all the very best is what we wish for you. You come each morning and greet us with a smile, and isn't that what makes life worthwhile?

Mild weather helps budget

The mild winter the county has experienced has resulted in snow removal savings for Stanhope township. This report was made at the township's council meeting March 9.

While the snow removal savings are substantial, the municipality has spent more on sanding than it has "for years" said reeve Harry Davis.

Clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain blamed the increased sanding expense on the numerous days of warm weather followed by freezing temperatures that left township roads slick with ice.

In January and February of last year, the township spent $16,883 for snow removal. Sanding cost came to $6,446 in the same two month period, bringing the total to $23,329.

January and February of this year has resulted in savings. The township paid as little as $5,800 for snow removal, more than $10,000 less than 1982. Sanding has increased almost $2,000 to $6,446. The 1983 total comes to $14,100, a $9,229 saving over the amount spent during the same period a year before.

Bain said this money would be used for other road work including construction.

Last Wednesday, Louise Guy presented Leonard Bernstein's West Side Story on CFMX-FM - 1.03 point 1 on your listening dial. This was a great listening experience. I know some of you have difficulty getting this station and sometimes you have to move your radio around for the reception. This is what I had to do. I get great reception in my bedroom. Give it a thought!

A very happy birthday to my little friend Lilla Zeller who celebrates her birthday on Sunday, March 20. All the best Lilla - God Bless!

And a very happy birthday to my son Dr. James Guida of Lake St. Louis, Missouri, who celebrates his birthday on Saturday, March 19. Many, many happy returns, Jim, with much love.

I've always believed that artistic merit survives anything.

Tennessee Williams.

Friends of CFMX-FM, are presenting Canadian Pianist, Richard Gresko in an all Chopin - Rachmaninoff program given at George St. United Church, Peterborough on Saturday, March 19 at 8:15 p.m. Preferred tickets are $7.00, seats are $6.00 and $4.00 for students.

I will report on the program which promises to be a beautiful experience. I plan to attend the concert with friends. Richard, incidentally, is forgoing his fee for the benefit of the Friends of CFMX. On Tuesday, March 22, Louise Guy will interview me on the station.

Nickolas Kulas celebrated his second birthday with lunch at the Fireside, last week, with his mother and dad, Ginger and Bill, and his grandfather, Nickolas Kulas from Kirkland Lake, who came down to help his grandson celebrate. We wish this darling little boy many happy returns, we also extend best wishes to his grandfather, 87 years young, and a fine man with a colourful and interesting past. More about this to follow.

The one parent families' association of Canada, Haliburton Chapter will hold an income tax clinic at their next meeting on March 22 at 8 p.m., at the Municipal Office in Minden. A piano recital was held at Archie Stouffer school on Friday evening by teacher, Dianne Smith. Students taking part were, Damon Smith, Michelle Walker, Laura Lennie, Kimberley Smith, Jennifer Oitment, Cheryl-Ann Russel, and Jeffrey Walker. Parents and friends enjoyed listening to the children give their first recital. Refreshments were served after the performance.

On Sunday, March 13, I drove to Huntsville to attend a meeting held at Griffin Lodge by the Peace Group organized for World Peace and Disarmament. There was a very large turnout for the dramatic movie 'If you love this planet', after which there was a panel discussion in which I participated. A potluck supper was served at the end of the program. If anyone is interested in becoming involved, you may write or phone Arts for Peace, Box 250, Postal Station "F", Toronto, Ontario, M4Y 2L5. The organization plans a Canada-Wide Artspeace Festival to be held on July 24 to 30. People's assistance would be greatly appreciated.

I would like to thank the ladies of ACW for their enthusiastic response to my demonstration in acrylics, last Tuesday evening in St. Paul's Parish Hall. They were most kind, and I was very pleased at the turnout. Following the demonstration, they presented me with a lovely corsage, and a delicious lunch was served. Debbie Dart won the painting, which was raffled off at the end of the program. I will be happy to come back ladies, and demonstrate in a different medium. My sincere thanks to you all.

The ladies of St. Paul's are still diligently working at their Easter egg creations. Time is running short so do take advantage of their delicious confections which sell for $1.25. Anyone interested may contact Linda Elliott at 286-1817 or Barb Fawcett at 754-3161.

The winners of the mini-card party at St. Paul's last week are as follows, cribbage, Lil Porter, euchre, lone hands, Hilda Harrison, high, Diane Warnes.

Bob Guthrie of Bowmanville is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rockory of Sunrise Apartments for a few days.

Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Porter visited with Mrs. Ward's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clark in Wilberforce last week.

Don't forget the up coming breakfast to be served by the men of St. Paul's Parish on Sunday, March 20, at 8 a.m., beginning with a service of Holy Communion, and then proceeding to the delicious breakfast. Circle your calendar. It will be nice to be served by the gentlemen for a change.

A wonderful listening experience - Zubin Mehta, my favourite conductor, conducting the Los Angeles Philharmonic in Ravel's Bolero, and Mussorgsky - Ravel's Pictures at an Exhibition.

There is a certain kind of emotion - the aesthetic emotion - which can be isolated, and that the values of poetry dwell in this emotion and can therefore be isolated too. It is the theory which assumes that the experiences of poetry and the experiences of life can, and should be, kept in water-tight compartments, and that any criticism of poetry in terms of life is invalid. Oscar Wilde.

These are puzzles with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away February 26, 1950.

Thomas C. Bagshaw

You bade no one a last farewell
Not even to say goodbye.
You were gone, we knew it
And only God knew why.
It broke my heart to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of me went with you
The day God called you home.

Lovingly remembered by wife Vera, son Tommy, daughter-in-law Marilyn,
three grandchildren Lisa,
Tommy and Kimberly. 3C
